

"From highly-detailed technical issues to what could possibly go wrong in any given situation...the amount of common sense advice and crucial technical information is unprecedented."

-Harry M. Cheney, Sound Editor
American Pie, Bram Stoker's Dracula, The Legends of the Fall

400 Full-Color Pages - 700+ Illustrations - Bonus Website

Order Yours Now at:

DownAndDirtyDV.com

The only source for guerrilla film training.

CAPTURING INTIMACY

Once the tension and pressure of the wedding ceremony and formalities have subsided, the happy couple usually starts to relax some and just enjoy one another's company. As the realization that "Wow, we're really married now" starts to settle in, they often begin to dote on each other, gaze into each other's eyes, or steal away for a few moments alone. These first few hours of marriage are full of visual signs of love and closeness.... Hang back with your finger on the record button and capture as many of these intimate moments as you can.

Look Out for the Little Tender (Semiprivate) Moments

You should always be fully observing the scene around you for all the little moments that visually portray the love between the new husband and wife....

Get tight shots of hand holding.

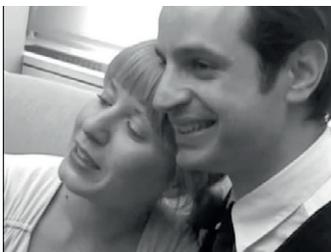

A bride lovingly pats her husband's forehead on a hot summer day.

The bride-to-be greets her groom for the first time.

Love can always be captured in the eyes...no words needed.

The relief and joy of being married start to settle in.

A beautiful bride-to-be quietly contemplates the day as she gazes out the window.

Hang Back and Zoom In

An easy way to capture unguarded intimacy between the happy couple is to plant your camera in some inconspicuous place and zoom in from afar. If you still have the groom on a wireless lav mic, you may also capture their first candid sweet nothings as husband and wife.

Their first few minutes alone.

A romantic stroll through the scenic reception site grounds.

A stolen kiss captured through a sheer-curtained window.

s0355

p1255

s0360

p1260

p1290 p1285

f0370 f0365

f0385 f0380

s0365

p1295

p1310 p1305

f0400 f0395